Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: WO 95/08265

D2: WO 93/16596

D1 teaches the heat extrusion of a dry premix comprising the sulfonylurea compound, urea, one or more urea modifiers and optionally a base.

D2 describes a method for reducing residual sulfonylurea herbicide contamination of spray equipment by requiring the formulation of the sulfonylurea active ingredient in the form of an agriculturally water soluble salt. The formulations described in D2 include dusts, granules, pellets, solutions, suspensions, but paste extrusion is not mentioned.

Thus the subject-matter of claims 1-17 is novel (Article 33 (2) PCT) vis-à-vis each of D1 and D2.

The problem underlying the present invention may be seen as that of preparing sulfonamide herbicide formulations having satisfactory water dispersibility but also improved spray equipment clean-out properties.

The above problem is solved by the claimed process which consists in paste extruding a mixture containing the sulfonamide herbicide free acid and sufficient base to reduce residues in spray equipment. An additional process step for preparing salts of sulfonamide herbicides is not required. The aforementioned solution is not suggested by D1 or D2 or their combination. Thus the subject-matter of claims 1-17 can be considered as being inventive (Article 33(3) PCT).

The subject-matter of claims 1-17 is considered to be industrially applicable and the present application is therefore considered to satisfy the criterion set forth in Article 33(4) PCT.
